There is a cure for dyspepsia. Sufferers who have tried noxious nostrums will probably be skeptical, but skepticism vanishes when Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are tried. Whether the trouble is dyspepsia of long standing, or merely a simple case of indigestion, relief is prompt and pronounced. The less the ompt and pronounced. The less the form.

By promoting perfect digestion, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets produce strong nerves, restful, refreshing sleep, pure blood and good, sound, healthy flesh. They make the skin, clear, the eyes bright, the mind cheerful.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are a medicine. They digest the food and make it easy of assimilation and they relieve the inflamed, diseased condition of the membraneous linings and the glands of the stomach and bowels. They help the digestive organs over the hard places, and put them into a healthy, active condition. They effect a quick and permanent cure. You don't have to continue taking them forever, still it is well to have a box handy and take one at the first return of the trouble.

well to have a box handy and take one at the first return of the trouble.

Perfectly well people are made sick by eating too much, or unwholesome food, but not if they take a tablet after eating. Treatment with Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets does not necessitate deting or any change of habits. They digest the proper food and act upon the other kind in such a way as to make it pass off quickly and harmlessly. You may eat and drink what you like, when you like and as much as you like if you take a tablet afterwards.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by all druggists at 50c for full sized package.

As he reached the top of the stairs he saw a man with a bundle of clothes under one arm come out of one of the bedrooms. The man saw him about the same time, and darted back into the room. Kiene shouted for him to stop, but by the time he had reached the room the man was in the yard below, having leaped from a second story window. In a minute more he was on a run in the direcite more he was on a run in the direc-

Kiene lost no time in getting down stairs, and, securing a revolver, jumped on a horse and started in pursuit. When he reached the edge of the timber on the banks of Mission creek, he came almost face to face with the burglar. Leveling his revolver, he commanded him to throw up his hands, but instead the man jumped back among the trees. Kiene fired four shots at the retreating figure, but the crook continued on his figure, but the crook continued on his way and Kiene left his horse and start-

Then the chase commenced in earnest. The burglar reached the creek only a short distance ahead of his pursuer, a short distance ahead of his pursuer, and ran down the bank into the water. Kiene followed and was right behind him when he climbed the opposite bank. Along the creek the burglar ran with Kiene hot in pursuit, and after a few minutes' chase, he made again for the creek. The crossing was repeated, and the chase taken up on the other side. Again the pursued and the pursuer dodged among the timber for several minutes, and a third time the burglar made for the water.

CARE FOR HIS REPUTATION Causes Dr. Fuess to Commit Suicide Rather Than Stand a Court Martial.

New York, Sept. 28.—It was because he feared a court martial, the publicity of which he believed would ruin his reputation, that Dr. John Henry Fuess took his life on the United States transport Burnside, of Barnegat last night. Dr. Fuess was a contract surgeon in the United States army.

He joined the service July 7, 1889, and was stationed at Boca del Toro, in Cuba.

He shot himself in his cabin while on his return home in response to an army order. On his table was found a letter dated September 26 and addressed to Don't fail to b Dr. C. E. Hartung of this city, whom he gave all his personal property. In the letter Dr. Fuess said his colored servant in Boco del Toro had been in-duced by a surgeon from Mobile, Ala., to wrongfully depose that he had sup-pressed information concerning a yel-low fever case. This false testimony, Dr. Puess wrote, would result in a court martial and his disgrace.

it was made merely of paste board and dozens of different colored tissue paper, with a brilliant light placed in the room back of it.

At the top of the window in red, white and blue letters were the words, "Not in the combine, made in Topeka, U. S. A., Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Bacon." Below this was a large sheet of paste board which exactly fitted the window, cut in a design often seen in church windows. The design was drawn by Mrs. Bacon and was cut by her husband; they spent a week in making it, working in the evenings.

Occupying a conspicuous place on the lawn was a lantern, on which were the words, "Our First;" it was ornamented with dogs, cats, leaves and other simple figures, little resembling the intricate designs of those made afterwards. Many of the lanterns are very elaborate, the designs being fruits, flowers and many conventional designs.

Mrs. Bacon, in speaking of the lanterns, said: "It is very fascinating work; I do all the designing and Mr. Bacon cuts them out in the evenings. He uses nothing but a sharp knife in cutting them, except the ones that are ornamented with round dots and for them he uses a punch."

There were fifty lanterns and nearly as many different designs, Hundreds of people called during the evening.

In the Shop

Women who have leisure find it hard to combat the ills to which all women are subject, but the shop-girl must suffer and suffer, and keep on working.

Is it any wonder they break down under . the strain?

Mrs. Anthony Sutter, Crestline, Ohio, writes:

"It would be hard to explain to you my condition before using your Vegetable Compound. I was a great sufferer of kidney trouble and headache. On rising in the morning I was always tired and sleepy, and never felt like doing my work. Since taking the Compound I feel like a new woman. I sleep well at night, and can work all day without that tired feeling. I have advised some of my friends to try it, and we all feel thankful for the benefit we have derived from its use. May God bless you for the good you are doing the poor, suffering women."

Mrs. Pinkham is / surely the working-girl's friend, and many thousands of them have been helped by her counsel. Her address is Lynn, Mass. Don't put off writing until your health is wrecked. Ask for her help at the first indication of trouble.

Miss Rose Helden, 126 W. Cleveland Ave., Canton, Ohio, writes:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM-Four years ago I had almost given up hope of ever being well again. I was afflicted with those dreadful headache spells which would sometimes last three or four days. Also had backache, bearingdown pains, leucorrhæa, dizziness, and ' terrible pains at monthly periods confining me to my bed. After reading so many testimonials for your medicine, I concluded to try it. I began to pick up after taking the first bottle, and have continued to gain rapidly, and now feel like a different woman. I can recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in highest terms to all sick women."

Miss C. D. Morris, 3 Louisburg Square, Boston, Mass.,

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM-I have been using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound L and it has helped me wonderfully. I was troubled with headache, backache and that weak and tired feeling. I cannot say enough in praise of your medicine for it has done me so much good. I shall recommend it to all my friends who suffer."

The lives of working-girls are important lives. To continue at work without proper treatment is heroic but it is wrong and results in complete loss of usefulness. Mrs. Pinkham's help can be had for the asking, and her advice will tell you how to keep well and strong.

"I Am So Glad That I Wrote to You."

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM-I want to thank you for what you have done for me. When I wrote to you last June, I was almost a total wreck from female weakness. I was troubled with irregular and painful menstruation, leucorrhœa, bearingdown pains, soreness, and swelling of abdomen; pain at right and left of womb; headache, backache, nervousness, and could neither eat or sleep well. Since taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Liver Pills, and using your Sanative Wash, I do not feel like the same person. I am so glad I wrote to you, for you have helped me very much."-Mrs. Carrie Phillips, Anna, III.
